To Whom It May Concern:

I am the CEO of EventGnosis Inc., which is a security and networking software company near San Francisco, California, USA. Before I founded this company in April 2002., I was the founder and CEO of OpenService Inc., another software company that I ran for over 10 years. It is with this background and experience that I offer the following recommendation for Djurica Bogosavljev.

I have known Djurica since October of 2002 when I engaged him in a consulting contract as a Web Designer/ Multimedia Developer for our marketing and sales efforts. He worked as a contractor for EventGnosis Inc. on a regular basis from that point until January 2005. During that time I found him to be a reliable and creative resource for our company as we developed our marketing effort.

Specifically, Djurica was responsible for website design/development, online and print designs, including our corporate logo, sales collateral, customer centered multimedia presentations, as well as smaller details such as business cards and Power Point templates. I found his work and creativity to be of high quality and very beneficial to our corporate branding.

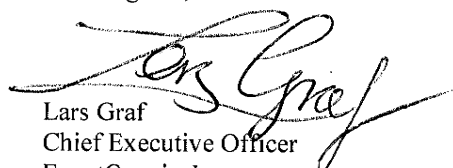

Djurica worked well within a company that has people working across multiple time zones and countries. I found him to be an excellent team player as well as willing to offer his creative input. He listened to what we wanted in our creative endeavors, and he always delivered. It was especially helpful when he would offer his ideas if he felt in his judgment that an approach could be improved.

Djurica also has high integrity. We have many projects and deadlines, and if something was not quite what we looking for, he adapted it to our revised requirements quickly. I never had to worry about surprises.

Finally, I found Djurica to be quite talented in taking our concepts and ideas and creating beautiful and effective products. His web and printing design are clean, attractive, and have simple, clean and compelling messages.

All in all, Djurica is talented and reliable, and is a genuinely nice and enjoyable person to work with. I would fully expect him to be an invaluable asset to any technical communications department. I highly recommend hiring him. If you'd like to discuss his attributes in more detail, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Best Regards,
